Why Jennifer Sheets?

- During her career, Jennifer has garnered such notable achievements and milestones as hosting her own radio show and podcast and being invited as one of the Keynote speakers this past May at the Reuters 2023 Supply Chain Summit.
- Through all of her platforms, Jennifer's goal is to humanize the professional experience. She cares about the whole person and not just their business.
- Jennifer has placed over 35,000 employees with companies big and small and even relocated a Fortune 1000 company's corporate offices, including 150 positions from the West Coast to Nashville.
- As the Founder and CEO of MasterStaff, Inc. for 23 years, she gained a unique outlook on life and business, navigating the challenges of pediatric cancer after son, Colton was diagnosed not once, not twice, but three times.
- Her book, The Human Capital Lifeline delves into the essential aspects of leadership often overlooked by many and critically addresses the influx of cutting-edge technologies like AI, blockchain and advanced management tools, and their efficacy in truly understanding human nature.
